

Fundamentals of Art Winter Break Packet

Part 1: Micrography

Micrography is an artwork that is created from text (writing). After we have completed our self-portrait sketch, we are going to transfer our drawing on to artist paper and draw ourselves using text. This is the traditional art form called micrography.

Part one of your winter break homework is to list 30 adjectives that can be used to describe you. You will use these adjectives to decoratively draw the contour lines of your face on your micrograph.

I am....
